Rainier Management Determined To Strengthen Pitching Staff

By EUGENE H, RUSSELL Sports Editor, The Times

THE Scattle Rainiers' front office is seeking help for the pitching staff. There seems to be need for strengthening the team, and the hurling department doesn't seem to be too solid. Of the 14 games of the first home stand, the Rainiers dropped eight. four to Sacramento, two to San Diego and two to Portland. Today, while only two games out the first place, the Rainiers are fifth in the Coast League standings. The schedule swings into its fifth week and weakness in vital spots begins

The pitching cannot be blamed completely. The Rainiers have won seven games by one run and dropped five by the same margin. Three times the Rainiers have been shut out, 8-0, 2-0 and 9-0. A little more power by the attack might have won those five lost by the one-run margin. They are the games that hurt.

Hope is held out that Floyd (Bill) Bevens, former New York Yankee hurler, will come through. Dr. R. W. Richards, club trainer, believes he can help repair Bevens' ailing arm. Bevens was on the Rainiers' staff in 1942, before going up to the majors. He was with the Yankees four years and reached his peak in the 1947 World Series when he had Brooklyn beaten with a no-hit game until Cookie Lavagetto rapped out a double to win the game, 3-2. Bevens, by that game, established a World Series record for most consecutive hitless innings, 82%. Bevens has two no-hit games to his credit, both while pitching for Wenatchee in the Western International League in 1939, against Bellingham. 3-0 in seven innings, and against Tacoma, 8-0 in nine innings, The Rainier management also hopes Bob Hall may be returned soon by the Boston Braves, and he should add pitch-

Seattle is not the only club seeking pitchers. Charlie Dressen, manager of Oakland, is eager to make some deals that will bring immediate pitching help to the last-year BOX SCORES champions, now fallen on evil days, a notch below Seattle in the standings.

Brooklyn Rumors

YOU never know how they start, but baseball rumors travel YOU never know how they start, but baseball rumors travel Trees to fast and wide. The latest going the rounds has it that Eliberate Harold ((Pee Wee) Reese, Brooklyn's dynamic shortstop and longer; field captain of the Dodgers, will be made team manager bestern. fore the season is over. Kindly Burt Shotton doesn't provide the fighting spark Owner Branch Rickey deems necessary, according to the rumor.

Pros Deny Signing U. C. L. A. Tackle
GEORGE PASTRE, tackle on the U. C. L. A. football team and also a member of the track team, has been ruled s eligible for college competition after a furore regarding reports of a contract with the Los Angeles Dons. Pastre has another year of eligibility in football, and has been cleared by Dr. David K. Bjork, U. C. L. A. faculty athletic representative, after Dr. Bjork received a letter from Jimmy Phelan of Gradia 18 (18 cm). It the Los Angeles Dons declaring Pastre has signed no agreements with that pro club.

Los Angeles sports writers recall the case of Dick Ottele of the University of Washington, who gave up his last year of college football when a "secret" contract came to light. The Californnia writers seem to think some "arrangement" existed between Pastre and the Dons.

Thoughtful and Generous Alumni

JORDAN OLIVAR, new football coach at Loyola University, Los Angeles, kept his gridiron squad overtime one day recently during spring practice. He explained apologetically that his watch had stopped. A few days later a couple of Loyola alumni walked into Olivar's office and presented the coach with a brand new watch which, it is understood, set someone back about $200.

BROOKLYN, April 26. -A triple play and homers by Gene Hermanski and Pee Wee Reese featured the Brooklyn Dodgers' 5-2 victory over the Boston Braves today.

Alvin Dark and Earl Torgeson homered to account for the Braves' two runs.

The first triple play of the ma-jor-league season came in the third inning, Johnny Sain singled and Ed Stanky sent him to sec-ond with another one-bagger. Dark then flied to short left and Left-fielder Hermanski came in fast to make a shoestring catch.

Sain, who was more than half-way to third, was doubled at sec-ond easily by Hermanski's throw to Second-baseman Jackie Robinson. Robinson's relay to Gil Hodges at first was in plenty of time to get Stanky.
