

Padre Sluggers Just 'Cousins' to SeAngels

SAN DIEGO — (Special) — The Seattle Angels, still prospering against the San Diego Padres, today were back atop the Western Division.

The Angels last night struck for six runs in the first inning and eased to a 7-3 triumph over San Diego, their fifth victory in five games with San Diego. That let Chuck Tanner's Halos slip past Tacoma by three percentage points. The Cubs lost to Indianapolis, 5-2.

THE SEATTLE triumph was against no humpty-dumpties. The powerful Padres, loaded with distance hitters, lead the Pacific Coast League's Eastern Division.

But Marty Pattin, the Halo right-hander, put the hush on most of them with a four-hitter for his sixth success against three defeats.

Tonight, Bobby Locke will try for his sixth victory against three defeats. He will pitch against San Diego's Gary Wagner (2-2).

Pattin had a relaxed evening; he watched his teammates pile up 14 hits against four Padre pitchers. Six of those hits, half of them doubles, came in the first inning, when 10 Angels batted.

Donnie Wallace opened the game with a single to right and was sacrificed to second. Merritt Ranew walked. Ed Kirkpatrick drove them both home with a double to center and scored himself on Chuck Vinson's double to left.

WHEN George Banks' single to center scored Vinson, it turned on the shower for Larry Colton, Padre starter. Dick Thoenen replaced him.

Banks stole second and scored on the first of Bill Murphy's three singles. Murphy scored on Hector Torres' double to center. Thoenen then managed the next two outs.

The Padres got an unearned run off Pattin in the third on a walk, a fielder's choice, Marty Richardson's double and Murphy's error.

The Angels got another off Thoenen in the fifth on two singles and an outfield error.

Pattin, through the sixth, had yielded only two hits. In the seventh, Marty was reached for a big one, a two-run homer by Ricardo Joseph, behind a walk to Billy Cowan.

The walk was one of three issued by Pattin, who struck out five. After the homer, Joseph's 11th, Marty yielded only a harmless single.

AFTER LOCKE, Tommy Burgmeier and Butch Heffner loom as starters in the four-game series with the Padres. Jim Coates, who pitched a shutout Sunday, will open the next series, in Phoenix.

Thus, Coates will not face Joseph this season. It was Joseph who last year charged Coates after being hit by a pitch and set off the Vancouver riot in which Merritt Ranew was hurt.

Coates' absence from the mound here is not by design. Tanner said: "If it were Jim's turn he would pitch, absolutely. It was his turn Sunday, so he pitched in Portland."

Ranew last night got a single to stretch his hitting streak to nine games since returning to regular play.

Wide-Awake Golf Wins N. W. Pro Title for Bies

By GIL LYONS

Don Bies, physically and mentally exhausted from the tension and sweltering heat of the United States open, almost bypassed yesterday's Northwest Professional Golfers Association championships at Broadmoor.

"Last Saturday night, I didn't think it was possible for me to play 18 holes in the open Sunday, then 36 more here on Monday," Bies said. "I was dog-tired."

BUT THE determined young assistant pro from Seattle Golf Club boarded a plane immediately after his final round at Baltusrol, and arrived home early yesterday.

DON BIES

day morning in time to catch a few hours of sleep.

The formula paid off. Bies played wide-awake golf, firing a pair of three-under-par 67s to win the regional P.G.A. title by one stroke. The effort netted Bies $380.

a better return, he said, than the $850 he grossed in the national open.

Bies was chased to the wire by a quartet of Oregonians — Bob Duden, Jim Petersen and Jerry Mowlds of Portland and Duke Matthews of Eugene.

DUDEN CARDED a 135 on rounds of 68 and 67. Matthews and Petersen tied for third at 137 and Mowlds shared fifth place with Kaye Walker of Port Angeles at 139. The four top finishers qualified for the national P.G.A. championships next month in Denver. Mowlds and Walker are alternates.

Bies made few mistakes yesterday. He holed seven birdies and an eagle 3 on the 518-yard 15th hole. He had only four bogeys over the 36-hole tour, twice when he three-putted and twice from sand traps.

Duden, one of the original croquet-style putters, was almost as flawless. He had eight birdies and only three bogeys.

AL MENGERT of Tacoma made a strong comeback with a 67 in the afternoon round, but could not make up the ground he lost with a morning 73.

Walker had the strangest performance of the day. He struggled to a first-round 75, then fired a six-under-par 64, only two strokes off the course record.

Johnny to Chuck; Sense and Sugar

It is pleasant to report that our leaders are getting into the ball game.

County Commissioner Johnny O'Brien, who used to do some All-America basketballing for Seattle University, today passed off to County Prosecutor Charles O. Carroll, once a pretty fair athlete at the University of Washington.

Johnny asked Chuck for an all-important opinion: When can King County start reaping the benefits of a room-tax in behalf of a stadium project here?

ACCORDING TO THE new state law which eases the way for stadium construction and/or acquisition, a Class AA county must provide a special fund for payment of principal and interest on bonds for a stadium.

The money from that special fund, the law says specifically, shall be used "for the sole purpose of paying the principal of and interest on the bonds for each such (stadium) issue . . .

SPECIFICALLY AGAIN, the room-tax (special fund) section, No. 11, states that the "legislative body of any Class AA county is authorized to levy and collect a special excise tax of not to exceed two per cent on the sale or charge made for the furnishing of lodging by a hotel, rooming house, tourist court, motel, trailer camp . . ."

Unspecified, however, is the date when the county can begin collecting that tax. Hence the request of an opinion from Carroll by O'Brien, who said:

"It is my thinking—I hope correctly—that the ability to collect the tax coincides with the effective date of the law, which was almost two weeks ago.

"If we can start collecting the room-tax now and keep it in a special fund for investing and building up interest, we could have enough money ready for the redemption and interest of the first year of stadium operation.

"We would be staying somewhat ahead nearly all of the time."

O'BRIEN'S ACTION is the second since the stadium law went into effect. Earlier, the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with Mayor Dorm Brame and Joe Gandy, chairman of the ad hoc stadium committee, had applied to Governor Dan Evans for his naming of King County as the site for a stadium under the new state law.

Quickly, you might ask: Where else would they put it? Remember, it's a state law. And both Pierce and Snohomish Counties have done some murmuring about becoming stadium sites.

The optimum site, of course, is King. Yet, unless there is clearance from other eligible counties, Governor Evans would have to wait for the full and specified 90 days before designating the county of choice.

He could get an application from, say, Pierce or Snohomish, or even Spokane, on the 89th day.

IT IS UP TO OUR FOLK to get waivers from those other counties and make it possible for the governor to act earlier and facilitate King County plans.

It would be better yet if we could get Pierce and Snohomish to join us. The boon from major-league sports and other attractions of grandeur would cross county lines.

Meanwhile, the stadium folk await Carroll's opinion. Immediate collection of the room-tax is not a must for the stadium. However, if the law allows a quick start, it would provide a financial cushion.

So, things are beginning to hum and the tune is good. Stadium backers are trying to get Forward Thrust to give a stadium high priority in the planned special election next winter.

BUT, AS STATED previously here, that is not the only avenue. The state law on stadiums provides that one can be constructed without a vote of the electorate, by action of the county commission for a revenue-bond situation.

The law fairly well simplifies what once seemed so complex a problem, points out directions.

It provides a coating of sense, plus a smitch of sugar, the room tax.

Red Sox Catcher Finally Ends Exile Over 'Beating'

BOSTON—(AP)—The virtual exile of Bob Tillman, Boston Red Sox catcher, for accidentally beaming his pitcher is being lifted.

The veteran receiver, banished to the bullpen for five weeks, is due to start tonight when the Red Sox meet the Yankees in New York.

Tillman, 30, starting his sixth season with the Red Sox, didn't get into the line-up until May 5. In six games, he collected five hits in 16 times at bat. Then came the nightmare of May 12 at Fenway Park.

Detroit was leading, 4-2 in the eighth inning, with the Tigers' Al Kaline at first base. Tillman grabbed the pitch and rifled a low, but strong throw intended to cut down Kaline's steal.

The ball never reached second. John Wyatt, relief pitcher, was struck on the head, stunning him. Kaline continued on to third and scored on a sacrifice fly with the decisive run in a 5-4 victory.

Tillman was tagged with the role of goat, but insisted it wasn't his fault. Tillman said, "I don't mean to criticize Wyatt, but he was standing straight up when I threw the ball. It wasn't my fault."

Dick Williams, Bosox manager, apparently disagreed. Tillman got to bat just three more times—in the next 38 games.
