

Finals of Carr sail series set here

Dennis Connor of San Diego, who won the 1971 Star-class world sailing championship here last summer, is returning — this time as a skipper of a Cal-40 in the Carr Trophy finals.

Connor, beaten out for the United States Star entry in the Olympics by Seattle's Alan Holt, won the San Diego-area eliminations for the Carr final, set for Shilshole Bay September 8-10.

The Dick Marshall-Dick Gilbert team won the Pacific Northwest eliminations on Shilshole last weekend. Marshall and Gilbert put together a first, two thirds and two seconds in the five-race series for a 10 1/2-points victory. Don Martin of the Royal Vancouver (B. C.) Yacht Club was second with 14 1/2 points. Larry Shorette of Seattle, only half a point behind going into Sunday's final race, did not finish and placed third overall. Pete Schmidt of Seattle was fourth (19). Tom O'Brien of Seattle fifth (22) and Tom Coad of Everett sixth (24).

Joining Connor and the Marshall-Gilbert team in the final will be Barney Flam of Long Beach, Calif., and a San Francisco skipper. The Bay Area eliminations will begin tomorrow. A Cal-40 team from Hawaii is expected to enter the round-robin final.

The Carr series sponsored by the Pacific Coast Yachting Association, puts the emphasis on the crew. Skippers are not allowed to sail their own boats, thus relying on the know-how of their six-man crews.

Felix Moitoret, who ably served as race chairman for the eliminations, will run the final series.

ADAMS CUP — CLEVELAND — (Special) — Jerie Clark of Seattle entered today's action in the Adams Cup sailing championships in second place.

Mrs. Clark and her crew, Rod McVittie and Gail Lerch, placed third, fifth and third in yesterday's three races, opening the chase for the North American women's sailing championship.

The leader is Sally Lindsay of Marblehead, Mass. Mrs. Lindsay placed second in the first race, won the second and was defeated "by about five inches" for first place in the third go.

The eight-race round-robin series, sailed in Lightnings, will continue through tomorrow on Lake Erie.

The standings:
Sally Lindsay, Marblehead, Mass., 22 1/2; Jerie Clark, Seattle, 16; Midge Beecher, Monmouth, N. J., 13 1/2; Harris Garrett, Dallas, Tex., 12 1/2; Karen Nole, Charleston, S. C., 12; Mimi Ness, Long Island, N. Y., 10; Blair McLorie, Toronto, 9; Fletcher Olson, Balboa, Calif., 8.

CALIFORNIAN LEADS — MARINA DEL REY, Calif. — (AP) — John Gilmore of San Francisco led seven other yachtsmen going into today's second round of the four-day Mallory Cup North American sailing championships.

Gilmore won both of yesterday's races.

The two victories gave Gilmore 16 1/2 points to 13 for Barry Snell of Nova Scotia, who had finishes of third and second. Ed Sherman of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Peter Hyslop of Vancouver, B. C., were tied for third, with 10 points.

Injury puts Davidson on sidelines

SANTA ROSA, Calif. — (AP) — Ben Davidson, who appeared to have an uphill fight to hang onto his starting job with the Oakland Raiders, now is handicapped by injury.

The veteran defensive end pulled a leg muscle in Saturday's 31-13 National Football League preseason victory over Buffalo.

"It was a stupid thing to do," he said yesterday of the play on which he was injured.

Davidson, 32, scooped up a loose ball and ran 23 yards with the fumble before falling on the last play of the game.

"You know us rookies—we have to be heroes," he said.

How long Davidson, a former University of Washington griddler, will be out of action has not been determined.

Two sign Islander parts
UNIONDALE, N. Y. — (AP) — Eddie Westfall, a right wing, and Gerry Desjardins, a goalie, signed their 1972-1973 contracts with the New York Islanders, the expansion National Hockey League club announced yesterday.

Can Jarvis add Mack to string?

By VINCE O'KEEFE

The days when local talent pounded on a promoter's door for work evidently are long gone.

Joe West, matchmaker for Valves, Inc., had to scout up and down the West Coast to get eight performers for tonight's professional-boxing show at Center Arena.

Bob Jarvis of Seattle will tackle Mack Hearn of San Francisco in a light-heavyweight 10-rounder. Jarvis' right-hand punch has stopped four of his previous five opponents in the first or second round.

Another "tenner" is a rematch between Al Foster of Seattle and Roger Buckskin of Portland, 140-pounders.

Buckskin won an eight-round decision from Foster here a month ago. Foster had an injured right hand at the time, but says his hands are sound now.

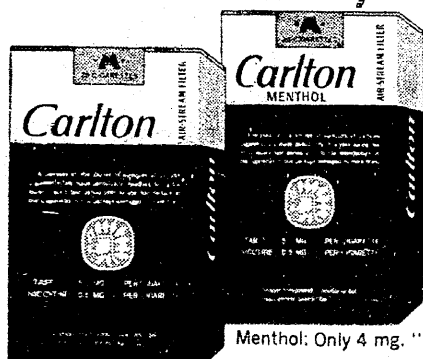

Another 21-year-old from Portland, Roger Mankins, will fight George Perez of Everett in a middleweight six-rounder.

Jim Goree of Oakland, Calif., and Herman Henry of San Francisco, light-heavyweights, are scheduled for six rounds.

Bouts start at 8:30 p. m. General-admission seats, at $2, will go on sale at the Arena at 5:30 p. m.
